ASSOCIATION OF ENERGY ENGINEERS

AEE FELLOWS PROGRAM

In 2012, the Fellowship Program of the Association of Energy Engineers, AEE’s newest program for professional recognition, was established. The purpose of the Program is to complement and enhance AEE’s existing recognition programs by granting the Fellowship Grade of membership to AEE members who have made a significant contribution to the energy management and alternative energy industry.

To be considered for the Fellowship grade of membership, individuals must meet the following requirements:

- AEE member in good standing for at least ten years
- Recipient of one of the following AEE recognitions:
  - Hall of Fame Inductee; or
  - International Award Winner in Individual Category: Energy Engineer, Energy Manager, Energy Professional Development, or Renewable Energy Innovator; or
  - Legends in Energy Inductee
- In addition, the candidate must complete an application indicating significant contributions to the industry such as books authored, patents granted, and awards received by other organizations; individual accomplishments; and significant contributions to AEE such as serving as a chapter member, board member, multi-year conference attendee, or conference speaker.
