Become AEE Certified

The Association of Energy Engineers (AEE) was the first organization to pioneer energy certification programs. No other organization can match the AEE Certified Energy Manager® (CEM®) credential. AEE certification programs are used throughout business and government, being recognized by the U.S. Department of Energy, U.S. Agency for International Development, U.S. State Department, Fortune 1000 companies, utilities, energy service companies, and countless others. In 2011, the U.S. Department of Energy recognized the Certified Energy Auditor (CEA®) and Certified Building Commissioning Professional (CBCP®) programs by awarding AEE a grant to expand AEE’s existing training and certification programs. In 2013, AEE gained ANSI/ISO/IEC 17024 accreditation for its Certified Energy Manager program. The CEM is also a U.S. Department of Energy Better Buildings Workforce Guidelines Recognized Program. AEE certifications are unmatched because we are the only organization:

- That has implemented energy certification programs for 34 years
- That has certified over 15,000 Certified Energy Managers (CEM®)
- That has certified over 28,000 professionals in specialty energy areas

Certification Statistics

86% of energy professionals surveyed responded that having an AEE certification has helped or will help their career

85% of energy professionals surveyed responded that their company has benefited since they had received their certification

61% of energy professionals surveyed indicated that they are receiving higher professional visibility since receiving their AEE certification

The 2015 AEE member survey, based on 3,000 responses. Access the results at: aeecenter.org/2015jobsreport and aeecenter.org/2015trendsreport
