

EDUCATION IN-PERSON

Invest In Yourself

AEE's live programs deliver a premium classroom training experience to every attendee, whether they are delivered by AEE, a local chapter, or an approved training partner. These focused multi-day programs are held in cities worldwide. By attending in person you gain the advantage of learning from knowledgeable instructors and engaging with your peers in an open interactive environment. Many programs lead to an AEE certification, which can also help differentiate your skillset, help improve your career, and save your company $$$.

IN-PERSON TRAINING PROGRAMS

Learn from Experience

Every AEE instructor draws knowledge from their experiences working in the energy industry. They present the latest practices, strategies, and theories, while leading discussions in an open, interactive environment. In each topic covered, the instructors focus on the most “useful” and “proven” activities to pursue in both the short and long terms, so that you can make an impact immediately after the program, and improve profits in the long term.

Distinguish Yourself & Improve Your Career

Attending in person, and gaining an industry-recognized certification will help improve your compensation level and create new opportunities.

Expand Your Professional Network

Many areas of energy management and energy efficiency are currently niche business sectors. During an AEE training program, you will share experiences, connect and engage with like-minded professionals that will become part of your network for years to come.
