

EDUCATION ONLINE

Accelerated Learning

AEE's online training programs provide an ideal opportunity to earn continuing education units, prepare for certification, or expand your knowledge on a focused subject. Online programs are fast-paced, short sessions that allow busy professionals to attend while still maintaining their current work schedule. Attendees can participate from anywhere — An ideal option for those with travel, time, or budget restrictions.

Specialized Programs

AEE offers a wide range of specialized online training programs as well as accelerated programs that prepare attendees for AEE's certification exams. Energy professionals can deep dive into lighting, cogeneration, microgrids, life-cycle costing, project financing, master planning, thermodynamics and much, much more.

Learning Management System

AEE's online training programs are delivered through a learning management system specifically developed for remote attendees. You are able to register, prepare, and attend all from a single system. You can also maintain your training records, certificates and credits in the system for years to come.

Get Certified Remotely

You are able to take an exam from the comfort of your own home or office while an exam proctor monitors your progress using a webcam and screen sharing technology.
