Why To Start a Chapter

AEE Information

AEE offers support to AEE members who wish to establish chapters in their areas. As they begin to attract fellow members and also non-members as they build their new chapters, it will be important to explain how membership in AEE benefits both its individual members and its chapters.

Individual Benefits:

- ☑ Valuable publications are included with AEE membership – the International Journal of Energy Management and the International Journal of Strategic Energy and Environmental Planning. The Energy Insight newsletter is located on AEE's website.
- ☑ $100 savings on seminar and conference registrations. Live Seminars are presented on different subjects in various locations in the US. In addition, Real-Time Online Seminars are offered online along with On Demand courses. Please see www.aeecenter.org/training for an updated list of programs. Three conferences/expos are held each year: AEE World, AEE East, and AEE West.
- ☑ In addition to the flagship certification program Certified Energy Manager (CEM), which is accredited by ANSI and ENAC, AEE offers certifications in these programs: Certified Business Energy Professional (BEP); Certified Building Commissioning Firm (CBCF™); Certified Building Commissioning Professional (CBCP®); Certified Demand-Side Manager (CDSM™); Certified Energy Auditor (CEA) (accredited by ANSI and ENAC); Certified Energy Auditor in Training (CEAIT); Certified Energy Procurement Professional® (CEP®); Certified GeoExchange Designer® (CGD®); Certified GeoExchange Designer in Training (CGIT); Certified Industrial Energy Professional (CIEP); Certified Lighting Efficiency Professional (CLEP); Certified Lighting Efficiency Professional-in-Training (CLEPIT™); Certified Measurement & Verification Professional® (CMVP®); Certified Measurement & Verification Professional in Training (CMVPIT); Certified Power Quality Professional® (CPQ®); Certified Carbon Reduction Manager (CRM); Certified Sustainable Development Professional (CSDP); Certified Water Efficiency Professional (CWEP); Distributed Generation Certified Professional® (DGCP®); Certified Existing Building Commissioning Professional (EBCP); Energy Efficiency Practitioner (EEP™); Certified Green Building Engineer™ (GBE™); Certified Performance Contracting and Funding Professional (PCF); Certified Residential Energy Auditor (REA); Certified Renewable Energy Professional (REP).
- ☑ For a small additional fee, members may elect to join one or more of the divisions of AEE: the Energy Managers Society, the Environmental Engineers & Managers Institute, the Energy Services Marketing Society, the Facility Managers Institute, the Council on Women in Energy and Environmental Leadership, the Cogeneration & Competitive Power Institute or the Alternative & Renewable Development Institute (members of these last two divisions receive the Alternative Energy and Distributed Generation Journal).
- ☑ Opportunity to belong to an AEE chapter and benefit from a local point of view on energy issues and from belonging to a network of energy professionals in your area.

Chapter Benefits:

- ☑ AEE provides an annual appropriation to chapters based on meeting attendance of members of AEE the parent organization.
- ☑ Awards programs recognize outstanding performance of members on local, regional and national/international levels.
- ☑ Scholarship program is available to assist students in chapter area.
- ☑ Chapters and individuals are recognized in the chapter section of the AEE website.
- ☑ The Chapter Leadership Meeting held during AEE's annual Conference provides a forum and assistance to chapter officers.
- ☑ A listing of chapters with contact information for each is maintained on AEE's website: www.aeecenter.org.
- ☑ Annual Chapter Recognition Awards acknowledge outstanding performance in a number of categories by individual chapters.

How to Start a Chapter

There are several keys to success in developing a new chapter:

- ☑ Assemble a steering committee of AEE energy engineers and managers with the interest and the time to organize a chapter. This group should include a balanced representation of the commercial/industrial, utility and governmental sectors, if possible.
- ☑ Through the steering committee, identify potential members and introduce them to the idea of a local chapter. A simple breakfast or lunch hosted by a utility or large energy consumer is a way to begin this dialogue.
- ☑ Selecting committees for membership development and program planning is a good way to involve prospective members.
- ☑ Begin to hold monthly or quarterly meetings with stimulating programs as a means of attracting members and assessing the local interest. Chapters have used several meeting times - lunch, after-work, dinner, and evening times - with success.
- ☑ Attract new AEE members at meetings with a display of AEE publications and membership information (both can be obtained from Headquarters).
- ☑ Use local media, utility and trade publications for meeting announcements and topical articles.

The AEE Board of Directors reviews the Petition for Chapter Charter with these criteria in mind:

- ☑ A group of at least 10-20 AEE members who will support a new chapter.
- ☑ Representation within these members of the commercial/industrial, utility and governmental sectors.
- ☑ An interim board that agrees to see the new chapter through its critical first year.
- ☑ Well-conceived program and financial plan covering the first year.
- ☑ A list of people who might have previously expressed interest in starting a chapter in your area is available through AEE Headquarters. We recommend that you contact them for assistance. If there is a chapter already established near your area, we will notify its president of your interest as well as the AEE regional vice president.
- ☑ A list will be provided to you of AEE members in your area. As chapter members are expected to be members of AEE, the parent organization, this list will provide you the nucleus for chapter recruitment.

Contact AEE for your local member list. This list of members with contact information is to be used for contacting potential chapter members for the purpose of forming a steering committee and later for notification of your organizational meetings.

- ☒ Your chapter's membership should be diverse, representing a broad scope of the energy industry in your area as much as possible. For example, one company's employees should not be the majority of the chapter's membership.

Procedure for Organizing a Chapter

Pre-Chapter Organization Activities:

1. In order to form a new chapter, there must be ten (10) or more dues-paying members of AEE, the parent organization, within a reasonable distance of the proposed chapter. There is no definition of reasonable distance in terms of mileage; it involves the willingness of an individual to travel to a location participate in AEE's activities.
2. The founders should be familiar with AEE's objectives. Since at least ten (10) dues-paying members of AEE, the parent organization, are required to form a new chapter, the first task is to recruit AEE members who will be "at large" until the chapter is formed. The technique of promotion varies, but experience has shown that several persons working as a team are most effective.
3. A steering committee of founders should set up the first organization meeting and all members and potential members (including engineers, consultants, plant, process and building engineers, governmental agencies, manufacturer's representatives and contractors) should be contacted. The meeting should be publicized well in advance, having full coverage in consulting engineering offices, governmental design agencies, manufacturing plants, and contracting firms within a reasonable distance.
4. We encourage Chapters to maintain historical records. We suggest keeping hard copies in a binder as well as electronic copies of these documents: Petition for Charter, Charter Certificate, Chapter Bylaws, each year's Annual Chapter Operations Report, minutes of meetings and any other historically significant documents such as each year's list of current officers. A Historian should be appointed to preserve and maintain these records, providing continuity for the chapter.

The First General Meeting

1. The first general meeting should have two purposes: to familiarize the potential members with AEE; to elect an interim president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer (interim board).
2. The first meeting should be temporarily chaired by one of the parties forming the chapter. This temporary chairman should:
3. Appoint a person to take minutes of the meeting.
4. Make arrangements for attendees to sign in with name, address, phone number, e-mail address, and business affiliation. This sign-in sheet will be used as a chapter mailing list.
5. If the meeting is a dinner meeting, take responsibility for collection of meal charges.
6. One of the parties involved in forming the chapter should speak to the group about AEE, its programs and benefits, and about projected plans and goals for a chapter. Discussion should follow. Distribute AEE member applications if any in the group are not AEE members.
7. Membership applications may be submitted to AEE Headquarters by hard copy or may be submitted online at www.aeecenter.org
8. Members should make note of the name under which they joined. This is the name that must be used in the future in all correspondence with AEE.

9. Election of interim chapter board should follow the presentation. The voting procedure should begin the election for the interim president who then should preside over the election procedure for the other interim offices.
10. If there is no further business, the interim president should announce the date and location of the next meeting and adjourn the meeting.
11. The interim vice-president should collect the sign-in sheet to use for mailing or emailing announcements for the next meeting.
12. The interim secretary should send a copy of the meeting minutes to AEE immediately as a notification that the first organizational meeting has been held. At that time, your chapter in development will be listed on the AEE Chapters website.

First Interim Board Meeting

The first interim board meeting should include the following:

1. Review the responsibilities of each interim office.
2. Select the place and time for the next four monthly or quarterly general meetings. Choose topics and speakers that will be of general interest to the majority of the attendees. All presentations MUST be nonproprietary and this MUST be understood by the speakers. Speakers should know their subject matter and present it well. Good programs are essential.
3. Select a temporary newsletter editor who will write a newsletter which can be used for meeting notices. During this development period, this newsletter may be simple in format. A copy of every newsletter should be sent to AEE Headquarters.
4. Set up a membership-recruitment program.

Second General Meeting

A sample agenda for this meeting follows:

|           |   |                |
|-----------|---|----------------|
| 6:00 p.m. | Social Hour: Name tags distributed; fees collected  | Treasurer      |

|           | Self-introduction of attendees  |                |
|           | Reading of last minutes   | Secretary      |
|           | Treasurer's report  | Treasurer      |

1. Evaluate the results of chapter formation to date. Take corrective measures to improve if necessary.

2. Conduct other business as required.
3. Send minutes of meeting to AEE Headquarters.

Third General Meeting

2. The first permanent Board of Directors should be elected at this meeting. The term of office for this board will begin upon presentation of the Chapter Charter.
3. Upon completion of this third general meeting, the interim board should circulate the Petition for Chapter Charter obtaining ten (10) signatures of AEE members. This Petition and minutes of this meeting should be forwarded to AEE Headquarters, along with a completed Chapter Affidavit, Bylaws, and IRS Form SS-4.

Chapter Affidavit

Association of Energy Engineers, Inc.

The Association of Energy Engineers, Inc. ("Association") is a not-for-profit organization and is tax-exempt under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c) (6). The Association was formed and operates to promote the scientific and educational interests of those engaged in the energy industry through continuing education programs, newsletters, and other related activities.

The Association carries out much of its work through its chapters, which operate to promote the mission of the Association in local communities across the United States and abroad. Chapters hold periodic meetings to discuss activities and issues that are occurring in the energy industry and host special events, meetings or seminars and educational courses. The expenditures of the chapter mostly include rental space, printing, postage, educational materials, meals and miscellaneous office expenses. The Chapters may collect dues as well as meeting and seminar fees to defray the costs of their programs and activities.

Although the chapters have substantial autonomy in their governance, the IRS rules require that they remain subject to the "general supervision and control" of the Association. This ensures that chapters can enjoy certain benefits including, among other things, exemption from having to prepare and file a separate tax return with the IRS.

This affidavit sets forth the general terms and conditions of the relationship between the Association and the chapter, and upon its completion and execution, the Association will confirm the charter of an existing chapter, or will issue a charter to a new chapter formally designating it as an official Chapter of the Association.

Affidavit

In consideration of the confirmation or issuance of a charter, the Chapter, through its initial duly authorized undersigned officer agrees as follows:

1. The Chapter shall operate exclusively to promote the mission and purposes of the Association. The Chapter shall not offer programs which compete with those being offered directly by the Association, or carry on any
2. activities or operations which might, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the goodwill, reputation or relations of the Association with its members or the public generally.
3. The Chapter will regularly encourage its members to hold concurrent active membership in the Association.
4. Only a member in good standing of the Association shall be eligible to serve as an officer of the Chapter.
5. The Chapter shall maintain at all times a membership of no fewer than ten (10) members in good standing of the Association.
6. The Chapter shall hold no less than three (3) meetings of its membership per year.
7. The Association urges the Chapter to use the model bylaws provided by the Association. Any changes adopted to the model bylaws shall require the prior approval of the Association. The model bylaw provision requiring that, in the event a Chapter terminates that any remaining assets shall be distributed to the Association or its charitable foundation, is mandatory and may not be amended.

8. The Chapter acknowledges that some events and activities, such as conferences or meetings held in hotels or other public venues, may necessarily create potential legal liability for both the Chapter and the Association. In scheduling and planning such events, the Chapter shall be responsible for notifying and coordinating with the Association in advance of any such event to ensure that either the Association's general liability policy provides adequate coverage, or that a separate policy is obtained for the event.
9. By February 15 of each year, the Chapter shall file a Chapter Operations Report with the Association for the previous year using the form prepared by the Association. The Report shall include a list of the current officers and directors of the Chapter, and the current membership roster. This membership roster should identify which are members of the Association and which are members only of the Chapter. The list should include contact information. The Chapter acknowledges that this Report, and the information included in it, is critical to maintaining an efficient and collaborative relationship between the Association and its chapters and ensuring that the Association's tax exemption is not jeopardized.
10. The Chapter is authorized to use the Association's name, acronym and logo in conjunction with the Chapter's name. (Logo shall conform to the Association's published Policy on Logo Usage.) However, the Association shall be the sole owner of the Association name, acronym and logo, and it may revoke such authorization with or without cause. The Chapter shall enter into all contracts and all other legal agreements in the name of the Chapter and not in the name of the Association.
11. The Chapter acknowledges that it has received and reviewed the Chapter Start Up Kit provided by the Association, and will abide by any additional requirements and policies set forth there.
12. In the event of failure of the Chapter to meet these obligations, the Association shall give the Chapter written notice of any violations and a reasonable period of time to become compliant. Failure to remedy violations may result in the revocation of the Chapter's charter by the Association.
